

LADAS WINS THE DERBY.

Lord Rosebery's Great Colt Fills the Third Part of the Prophecy.

MATCHBOX FINISHES SECOND.

The Prime Minister Goes Out on the Course and Leads the Winner to the Paddock.

INAUGURATED 114 YEARS AGO.

The Victory of Ladas One of the Most Popular in the History of the Great Event.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, June 6.—Lord Rosebery's bay colt, Ladas, at Epsom, to-day, won the Derby.
Matchbox was second and Reminder third.

In the betting Ladas was a tremendous favorite, 1 to 4 on being the ruling price. Matchbox was second choice. Ladas won in a canter by a length and a half in two minutes 4-5 seconds; six lengths separated the second horse, Matchbox, from the third, Reminder. Hurdle was fourth. A scene of indescribable enthusiasm followed Ladas's victory.

Thousands of wildly cheering people, male and female, invaded the course after the race was decided, and Ladas was soon surrounded by a multitude, half mad with enthusiasm.
When Lord Rosebery appeared on the course in order to lead Ladas back to the paddock, a strong force of police was hastily sent to the spot in order to protect the Premier from the pressure of the crowds. As it was, the policemen had all they could do to make way for the triumphant favorite.

There was another tremendous outburst of enthusiasm when Ladas, Matchbox and Ladas entered the paddock together.
For to-day at least, the most popular man in England is the proud owner of Ladas, the winner of the Derby of 1894. Among the royalty and nobility present at the race were the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Princess Maud of Wales, the Duke of Edinburgh, the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke and Duchess of Portland, the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Westminster, Lord Rosebery, Earl Cadogan, the Earl of Coventry, the Marquis of Londonderry and Lord Randolph Churchill.

The English Derby is the most famous horse race in the world. It is 111 years old, and is attended by very heavy betting. It varied in value from the year 1793 up to 1880, when it was deposited to guarantee £5,000 to the owner of the winner, £300 to the owner of the second and £100 to the third. The first winner was Diomed.

LORD ROSEBERY.
This year there were 225 subscribers, 318 of whom at the time the Racing Calendar was issued had signed their intention to pay forfeit. Since then there have been other withdrawals, and only a small field went to the post.
All England, and in fact the whole world, awaited the decision of the Derby, in order to see whether the third part of Lord Rosebery's prophecy, made in his college days, would come true. The young peer then said that he intended to marry the richest heiress in England, would some day become Prime Minister, and that one of his horses would win the Derby.
He did marry one of the richest heiresses in England, Miss Hannah Rylands, and he is Prime Minister. To-day he eagerly watched for the fulfillment of the third portion of his prediction.
It is doubtful if so much interest has ever before been taken in the Derby. There were several causes for this state of affairs. In the first place, many thousands of people were anxious to see the Derby because of the great event of the turf. In the second place, Ladas was looked upon as being the horse of the year, his previous victories having won him hosts of friends who longed to see once more the prizewinner and rose hound, with rose-colored cap (Lord Rosebery's colors), flying to the front of every horse in the field.
Finally, there were masses of people who went to Epsom desirous of being present at the wedding of the Derby, the third great stage in the destiny of the British Premier. He had married the richest woman in England, he had become Prime Minister, but would he win the Derby? To the sporting fraternity this last honor seemed a far greater than the two former ones.
Thus it was that the usual trains at Epsom were crowded with people, and the pressure of business compelled the House of Commons to adjourn at an early hour, so that the racing could be followed, but it was more for the sake of the Derby than for the sake of the business.

The running of the Derby is witnessed by thousands of persons who gather on Epsom Downs early in the day and do not leave until late in the afternoon. No such crowds are ever witnessed at this time of the year.
The House of Commons annually adjourned over Derby Day up to 1832, when the pressure of business compelled the House to remain in session. Last year the adjournment was postponed for the first time, but it was more for the sake of the Derby than for the sake of the business.

DISFRANCHISING CONSTITUTION.

Delegates Put in a Dull Session at Albany To-Day.

Only Two Woman Suffrage Petitions Added to the Lot.

(By Associated Press.)
ALBANY, June 6.—The Constitutional Convention called the session of to-day at 10 o'clock. He introduced the Rev. Father Malone, the new member of the Board of Regents, who offered prayer.
The President handed down a petition from the American Patriotic League against appropriations for sectarian purposes. Similar petitions were presented by Mr. Cookinham from Rev. R. L. Backman and others and by Mr. Durfee from citizens of Wayne County.
Mr. Foote presented a petition from the Woman's Indian Association, of Rochester, for the education of Indians. Petitions for extending the right of suffrage to women were presented by E. R. Brown and Mr. Poole.
Mr. Lincoln called up his resolution that the sense of the Convention should be expressed by a resolution to submit to the Congress the consideration, a proposed amendment to the National Constitution requiring all voters to be citizens. The resolution was laid on the table.
Mr. Hottel offered a resolution that the Secretary communicate with the Secretary of State, Mayors of cities and towns, and the Board of Supervisors, to obtain a list of railroads and elevated roads, and street car lines, and refer to the Committee on Railroads.
Mr. Sedgwick from the Committee on Legislative Forestry, reported on Mr. Vedder's proposed amendment to the National Constitution requiring all voters to be citizens. The resolution was laid on the table.
The amendments proposed were the following:
Mr. Jenks—Allowing inmates of soldiers' and sailors' homes to vote.
Mr. Arnold—Creating a Board of Pardoners to consist of the Governor and retired Justices of the Supreme Court.
Mr. Marshall—The amendments offered to the people at the Judicial Commission of 1890, limiting the term of office of Justices of the Supreme Court to ten years.
Mr. Lauderbach—Compelling the reading of any bill in the Assembly before it is passed.
Mr. Clark—Giving the Legislature the right to divide towns and counties, but not to take land from one county to add to another.
Mr. J. B. Brown—Retiring Justices of the Supreme Court when they reach the age of 70 years.
Mr. Doty—Making the Board of Supervisors state specifically to what purpose money is applied.
Mr. Sedgwick—Giving the Board of Supervisors the right to divide towns and counties, but not to take land from one county to add to another.
Mr. Lincoln—Making the term of office of all Justices of the Supreme Court ten years.
Also, forbidding county court judges to act as surrogate.

318 MILES BY COACH.
Dr. Seward Webb Took on the First Stage of the Vermont Trip.
Tea members of the New York Coaching Club started to-day on a journey of 318 miles, requiring forty relays and eight horses.
They will be Dr. W. Seward Webb, of Shelburne Farms, near Burlington, Vt., who will take the first stage, driving an average of nearly eighty miles a day, to complete the journey. It will probably be the longest coaching trip of which there is any record during the last half a century.
Promptly at 8.30 o'clock, the scheduled time, the coach departed from the Hotel Brunswick.
Dr. Seward Webb was the whip, but every member of the party will take turns at driving the coach.
Those in the party, in addition to Dr. Webb, were A. J. Cassatt, Nelson Brown and Col. E. Morrill, of Philadelphia; F. R. Sturges, Reginald Rivers, Prescott Lawrence, Frederick Bronson, Ogden Mills and Theodore A. Havemeyer. The first two were picked up at the Plaza Hotel. All of these gentlemen are expert whips.
On changes of horses will be made each day. The teams used to-day will be sent on by special train for the third day's use, and the change tomorrow will be forwarded by train for work Saturday. Even by this method it will take eight horses to complete the trip.
The party was to take luncheon at Sing Sing, where it was expected to arrive at 12.10. The special dining car, Glamere, equipped with everything that could be desired, was to follow the party by rail, and in it they will eat most of the meals. Dr. Webb supplies the transportation, but the other expenses of the novel trip are borne equally by all the party.
The coach is due at 7 o'clock to-night at Poughkeepsie, a distance of 82.4 miles. It will be followed by the train, and at Troy and comprise 83.2 miles. Part of the party will travel 83.2 miles to Rutland, and then to Montpelier, a distance of 100 miles. The members expect to roll up the great driveway to Shelburne Farms, where they will be met by the coachmen. When they will go out on Lake Champlain, Dr. Webb's steam yacht.
The party will return by the same route, including horses, to New York City.

CLIVE'S SECRET IS INVOLVED.

After that Mayor Grant reappointed Mr. McClave as Police Commissioner.

After his appointment, the witness said, Commissioner McClave gave a grand dinner to which Mayor Grant was an honored guest.
This dinner Granger's testimony and he was allowed to keep in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms. Mr. Nicol testified that he knew what the Mayor was doing, and that he might possibly want to call Granger again later.
After some discussion, in which Mr. Nicol testified he had no intention of taking any steps to get the Mayor's son-in-law, Granger went out in company with Mr. Schram.
The witness said that James James Thatcher, superintendent of the bachelors' apartments at 4 West Twenty-seventh street, had kept an account of the Mayor's son-in-law, Granger, who was in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms.
